Harmon Campaigns The East

Tells Connecticut Democrats He Can Beat Taft in Ohio.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 9.—Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio looked into the upturned eager faces of a number of Hartford Democrats when he stepped off the train here. Governor Baldwin was present and he and a number of other Democrats were introduced to the Ohioans. Governor Harmon talked for about 15 minutes. "Yes," he said, "we had a good victory in Ohio. We produced 16 Democratic congressmen, which is as many as Texas had. The principal thing for the party," he continued, "is to keep united. The Republicans are having their troubles, but there is no reason why the Democrats should follow their example." Governor Harmon said he could beat Taft in Ohio.

Accuses The Girl's Mother

Drunken Akronite Says Daughter's Death Due to Drug.

Akron, O., Sept. 9.—Coroner Kindig is investigating the death of Mabel Twynham, 14, who died within an hour after being given a dose of medicine. Another daughter of the Twynhams, Mamie, died five years ago under circumstances similar to those in this case.

H. H. Twynham, father of the girl, has been arrested charged with intoxication. Twynham's spree began, it is stated, a short time after the death of the girl and following sensational charges made by him against his wife, Rose Twynham, who administered a drug to the daughter, which caused her death. Twynham says his wife gave the drug for medicinal purposes only.

TWO MOTIONS OVERRULED

Judge Watson Refuses to Set Aside Verdict or Grant Stay of Sentence—Prisoner Displays Emotion During the Dramatic Scenes in Backwoods Temple of Justice.

Chesterfield C. H., Va., Sept. 9.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of his wife and sentenced to die in the electric chair on Friday, Nov. 24.

The jury was out 57 minutes, although the verdict was reached on the first ballot.

When Louis O. Wendenburg, chief commonwealth prosecutor, had finished his summing up nothing remained to be done then but for the jury to retire to the little juryroom over the courtroom and take with them the fate of the white-faced youth who had sat in an unchanged position during the two and a half hours that the lawyers had been building up, bit by bit, the incriminating evidence that was to weigh against him in the minds of the 12 Chesterfield farmers in their box.

Judge Watson whispered for a minute to his clerk and then he directed that Sheriff Gill take the jury for a stroll around the courthouse green. "Let them get a little exercise. Mr. Sheriff," the court directed, "before they retire to the juryroom to deliberate upon this important matter."

DIEGLE REFUSES TO TALK RECEIVES 3-YEAR SENTENCE

Special to Herald.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 9th.—Rodney J. Diegle, the convicted sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio Senate, who has since his trial ended, kept the state's attorneys and the public on the quiver as to whether or not he would confess and implicate others in the bribery scandals in connection with the last session of the Legislature, was this morning sentenced by Judge Kinkead to serve three years at hard labor in the Ohio penitentiary.

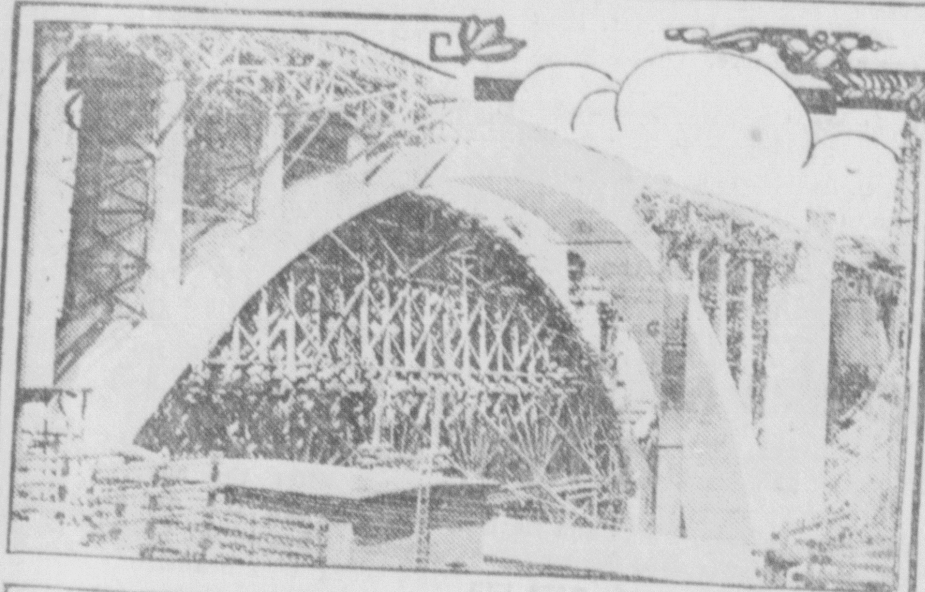

Diegle refused to make any statement at all and received his sentence without comment.

A 60-day stay of execution was granted by the court to enable Diegle's counsel to perfect error proceedings and make application to the Circuit court for further stay, pending the proceedings in error to reverse the jury's verdict of guilty.

World's Longest Single Span Re-enforced Concrete Bridge

WITH the completion early this fall of the Monroe street bridge, Spokane will have the longest single span re-enforced concrete bridge in the world. The central span is 281 feet in length or twelve inches longer than the bridge over the Rocky river, under construction at Cleveland, O., and fifty-eight feet longer than the famous Wissahickon river structure at Philadelphia. The bridge will have a roadway for teams and walks for pedestrians as well as tracks for the electric lines of the city. The city of Spokane is paying for the bridge, the cost of which is to be $550,000. The most important thing about the bridge is the fact that the principle employed in its construction, while old in theory, is new in practice. In this structure each segment of the arches was made separately and afterward keyed in, contrary to the usual custom of building the molds and then placing the entire amount of concrete in at once or as nearly at once as possible. Only enough steel was used to prevent surface cracking. By using as little steel as possible two things were accomplished—almost one-third of the estimated cost, according to the usual manner of construction, was saved, and no initial strain whatever was placed on the bridge before the concrete was firmly set. When the separate blocks were keyed in the trestlework was constructed so that even then no strain was placed on the setting concrete until perfectly dry.

FARMERS ARE HOT ON THE TRAIL OF

YOUTHFUL ROBBERS

ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD IS AROUSED

Youths Assault Woman Who Caused Arrest of One.

East Liverpool, O., Sept. 9.—Seeking revenge for an imprisonment resulting from an alleged theft of a suit case from her home, John Jasper, 19, with an unknown companion, swooped down upon the home of H. K. Rhodes of West Point and attacked his wife, and after beating and choking her almost into insensibility, got away with $500 worth of jewelry, money and other valuables. Both managed to escape when pressed by neighboring farmers and have not been captured.

Notifying the entire neighborhood and officials at Lisbon, a posse headed by Mayor Hinchelliff formed and is now scouring the country in search of the two men. With the posse is Mrs. Rhodes, who, though still suffering from her injuries, has gone along to identify the fleeing men. The farmers are in an ugly humor and the accused may be summarily handled when caught.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Another strike vote is being taken by shop employees of the Illinois Central railroad, and upon its outcome depends whether more than 13,000 mechanics on that line will quit their posts within the next week. The results will not be known until next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Tuberculosis Campaign Is Planned

Fight Against Tuberculosis to Be Waged in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Sept. 9.—"Tuberculosis was responsible for 7,208 deaths in Ohio during the year 1910." This is a statement made today by Robert G. Paterson, Ph. D., executive secretary of the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, at the annual meeting of the society held in the offices of the state board of health in Columbus.

Realizing that these figures reveal an economic waste to the state, as well as an amount of personal suffering that is enormous, the members of the society took steps to wage an active campaign against the disease. The incorporation of the society was determined upon and immediate steps will be taken to have the incorporation papers filed with the secretary of state.

Officers of the society were elected as follows: Dr. John H. Lowman, Cleveland, president; Dr. W. W. Brand, Toledo, first vice president; Dr. Frank Warner, Columbus, second vice president; Dr. Henry Baldwin, Springfield, secretary; Foster Copeland, Columbus, treasurer.

ATTORNEY SCoured COUNTRY

Finally Discovers Mechanic Who Years Ago Presided Over Free Baptist Congregation in Rhode Island Village, Whose Ideas On Divorce Question Will Not Interfere With His Performance of Marriage Ceremony.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 9.—According to arrangements made with Rev. Edwin S. Straight of this city, colonel John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeleine Force will be married in Newport today. Straight was pastor of a church so long ago that very few of the residents now alive can remember it. He has for years worked as a carpenter and builder, occasionally supplying a pulpit for some clergyman. Many years ago he was pastor of a Free Baptist church in Warren, R. I.

It took days of effort, during which most of the clergymen of Rhode Island who still marry divorced persons have been canvassed. Richard B. Comstock of the law firm of Comstock & Cannig has been indefatigable, and it is he who finally concluded the arrangements with Mr. Straight.

During the past few days Mr. Comstock has been a frequent visitor at the City hall and each time his attention was centered in the marriage bureau. He was seen scurrying about the corridors of the building and it was later learned that he had spent some time with Dr. Eugene P. King, the assistant superintendent of health, discussing section 22 of the marriage laws of Rhode Island.

Looked Up the Law.

This section is the one which provides that in case of a marriage being performed by a person professing to have a license to join persons in marriage, the said marriage shall not be declared void because of lack of jurisdiction on the part of the person performing the ceremony. It also provides that such a marriage shall be perfectly valid providing that it is lawful in other respects and has been performed with a full belief on the part of the persons so married, or either of them, that they have been lawfully joined in marriage.

Mr. Straight went to the City hall and registered so that he would be legally qualified to perform the ceremony. Any person who shall solemnize a marriage in this state without being properly qualified is subject to a fine of $500.

She is going to pose for moving pictures which will provide a moral lesson. Events from her own pitiable life, will be shown to guide other young girls away from the pitfalls whose wages is death. Her pictures are to "uplift."

Put-in-Bay, O., Sept. 9.—The national Perry centennial commission and members of nine state commissions are in session here today discussing plans for the Perry centennial, which is to be held Sept. 8, 9 and 10, 1912. Among the party are Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, General J. Warren Keifer, Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, Colonel Henry Watterson, Myron T. Herrick and Richmond P. Hobson.

The arm was amputated, and Mrs. Barnett is in a critical condition.

The other accident occurred to freight conductor, B. F. Halcey, in the yards at Circleville, where he had stepped aboard one of the passenger trains to ride down to his train in the yards. "VAUDEVILLIANS" RELEASED FROM EMPIRE THEATER.

Not having received the number of acts promised for this week's performances at the Empire vaudeville, Manager Chas. Johnson booked another attraction, Albright and Wright, in a singing, talking and dancing act, for Friday night, in order that patrons of the vaudeville might receive the biggest 10 cents' worth of entertainment he could give.

The Albright and Wright stunt proved so amateurish and worthless, that the pair were given the laugh, and after their first appearance Manager Johnson promptly cancelled the act and allowed them to go. This is in perfect keeping with Mr. Johnson's avowed intention of offering only first-class attractions.

Miss Lizzie Weller, who is visiting in this city, and whose reputation as a trick pianist is widespread was secured to fill out the program.

He is a capable business man, with unusual executive ability, one of the men that our business world is unwilling to lose.

BOTH MOTHER AND DAUGHTER COMMITTED TO INSANE ASYLUM

Upon complaint filed, Mary E. Oswald and daughter, Lida, of Millwood, were arraigned before Judge Patton on a charge of lunacy, this afternoon, and were found insane and ordered committed to the State Hospital for the Insane, and will be taken to that institution Monday morning. At the present time they are confined in the county jail.

The complaint against the women was a result of their claim that the driving mare of the parties who filed the complaint, belonged to them, and that the first time they caught them driving the mare, they would take possession of the animal.

They called at the Rothrock Livery barn where the mare was kept and informed Mr. Rothrock that the horse belonged to them, and for him not to let the complainants have the investigation, with the result that mare any more. This resulted in an charge was preferred against them.

Sheriff Nelson and Deputy Sheriff Ol Nelson went over to Millwood and brought the two women in. As the case had previously been tried before Judge Patton, and he was well acquainted with the facts, the hear-

THE WAGES OF SIN.

In the quiet little old village of Chesterfield Court House, Va., at dusk last evening, twelve men, good and true, of the old commonwealth, declared, under dramatic conditions and the picturesque surroundings which still remain in all their grandeur, as mute reminders of a day and age that has passed, that Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., must die.

By the flickering light of the coal oil lamps which threw gruesome shadows on wall and ceiling of the more than a century old temple of justice, surrounded by giant trees, in the shadows of which the insects chirped their evening song, the clerk of the county court read the verdict which meant the doom of a young man who refused to avail himself of the advantages within his grasp.

Convicted of the cold blooded murder of his young wife and the mother of his child, the confessed associate of dissolute characters, the idler and the degenerate, heard his doom, with the odors of a cigarette, but a moment before discarded, still clinging to him, in an unflinching manner which denoted not bravery but depravity.

The gray-haired and heart-broken old father, the true gentleman of old Virginia, placed his arm around his lost son and wept.

What a picture and what a vivid and real dramatization of the old proverb, "the wages of sin is death."

The sublime chivalry of the old and real aristocracy had risen supreme and the decree was inexorable and inevitable.

AN OLD QUESTION.

Nearly every resident of this nation who keeps abreast of the times and that means in this day every one, with very few exceptions, has been cognizant of the fact that the Federal government has been engaged in stupendous work of reclaiming millions of acres of the arid lands of the western part of the country between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains.

Not many, however, have comprehended the magnitude of this vast work—that already completed, that in process of building and that under serious consideration.

Those who have taken the pains to inform themselves as to just what is going on, have been astounded and highly gratified at the great task, the enormous funds necessary to carry on the work, the success accomplished and the prospects for the future great accomplishments. An enthusiasm has taken hold upon the people which has never been surpassed since it became generally understood that the great public domain, open to settlers, was all taken up. Now these gigantic enterprises are threatened with a setback on the old, old question of "State's Rights".

Manufacturers' organizations, commercial clubs, chambers of commerce and the residents of the western states will be invited, it is authoritatively asserted to join in a movement to determine what rights the Federal government has in the water powers of the commonwealths west of the Mississippi river. It is planned to carry the question to the highest court, if necessary, in an effort to gain control for the states of the water powers within their boundaries.

It is announced that in trying to maintain control of the water powers of the western commonwealths, the government is violating a specific provision of the constitution of the United States. It is claimed that before the constitution was signed the various states zealously guarded their own right to control all waters and water powers, which were not distinctly outside of the domain of any one state, and this right the state will have.

That the water powers are an inexhaustible source of wealth to the states and communities in which they are found and should be developed for the benefits of those districts, no one will deny.

Of course it must be admitted at once that there is much force, technically speaking, in the position assumed by those agitating the movement which has for its purpose the checking of the government work.

Thinking people though are almost unanimous in the belief that the work necessary to bring about the great benefits to the public at large would be too vast for any single state to undertake; that the reclamation of the desert lands as a matter in which the whole people are interested and those general rights rise supreme to the rights of any one state even though Federal operations may result in a detriment to the inhabitants of a particular section.

The vast irrigation projects have proceeded upon the broad theory that if it became necessary in order to reclaim a vast section of arid lands in one state to take the water from another state even though that water was used within the limits of the other state for mining and milling purposes that the great public benefit to be subserved justified such interference.

It is not likely that the advocates of the narrower policy will meet with success even though technically they may be correct in the position assumed.

It is after all the greatest good to the greatest number doctrine which rules this nation and every other civilized nation and smaller individual rights must give way before that power which is made right by the greatest public good to be obtained.

The position of the objectors seems now untenable.

JESS YOU WAIT A WEEK OR TWO

Jess you wait a week or two, till the leaves begin to fly,
An' the wild goose comes a-honkin' down the reaches of the sky
With the sunlight jess a-winkin' an' a-blinkin' on his breast.
An' his all-observing vision ranging east an' ranging west,
Ranging up an' ranging down, Here a farm, an' there a town,
An' there a river soft an' blue—
Jess you wait a week or two.

Jess you wait a week or two, till the cider apple falls,
An' the gods begin to gather in their union overalls
With their mouths a-runnin' water, an' the creakin' cider press
Fillin' all the orchard spaces with its groanin' an' distress.
Turnin' 'round, an' turnin' 'round,
Here a wheeze, an' there the sound
Of apple cider oozing through—
Jess you wait a week or two.

Jess you wait a week or two, till the days are soft an' still,
An' the sassafras is burning like a beacon on the hill,
With the wizardry of autumn showing here an' showing there,
An' the breath of Injun summer sort o' sweetenin' the air,
Floatin' low, an' floatin' high,
Like a mirage in the sky.
An' there a meadow wet with dew—
Jess you wait a week or two.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Benefits of the Morning Walk.
Beauty seekers can do no better than to search for clear complexion and general radiance in long early morning walks. Seek some place where greenery or water will add its quota to the inspiration of the walk and bar all but happy thoughts from the mind. Swing along at a medium gate, head erect, shoulders back, ball of foot put squarely to the ground and limbs swinging from the hips rather than the knees. Breathe deeply, being careful to expel all the air from the lungs after each breath, an operation which requires rather loose garments. Above all, don't forget the happy thought. Roses for the cheeks and energy for the day can be gathered at will during these beauty walks.

Q.—What and where is the "Lake of Fire and Brimstone?" Revelation xix, 20; xx, 14, 15.

Answer.—The book of Revelation is manifestly a book of signs and symbols as stated in the beginning of the book (Revelation i, 1). A "beast" and "false prophet," surely not literal, were to be cast into the "lake of fire and brimstone," surely not literal. A lake ordinarily is a valley filled with water. A lake of fire and brimstone would, similarly, be a valley filled with these elements. Outside the walls of the ancient city of Jerusalem there was such a lake of fire and brimstone called the "Valley of Gehenna" into which all the refuse of the city was cast, and destroyed. When the New Jerusalem (Revelation xxi, 2) is established in the earth, all that savors of unrighteousness and corruption will be destroyed (not tormented). It would be impossible to express in signs and symbols more forcibly the thought of entire and absolute destruction than that which is represented by the expression, "the lake of fire burning with brimstone." No one could think of more destructive elements. Therefore the lesson is that all who fail to gain entrance into the city of the New Jerusalem shall go into the lake of fire and brimstone, which is the second death—everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord—annihilation. "They shall be as though they had not been" (Obadiah xvi).

IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, Sept. 8, 1911.

Now it's New York that is picked to win the pennant in the National League. The Giants have a nice bit of a lead in first place, their pitchers are going well, the team is intact, and there seems to be no reason to look for a slump. The Cubs, while keeping up the hot pace, are not quite showing the strength that McGraw's men are putting forth, and so can't be counted quite as strong contenders for the first honors in the National as the men from Gotham. McGraw can place almost absolute reliance on Mathewson, Crandall and Marquard, the latter having been particularly strong of late in the matter of wins. Then he has Ames, Wiltse, Drucke and one or two others to fall back on for emergencies, so that the pitching end of the Giants looms up about as well as that of any other team. The Cubs are not as strong in the twirling department, while the Pirates, the only other contenders for the flag, seem to be pretty near out of it, the defeats administered to them by the Reds during the past week having a decided effect on their chances. And they're not the first team that the Reds have put out of the running at a critical stage.

When Griffith and his men come home early next week they will bring with them several recruits who are to be tried out between now and the playing of the post-season series between the Reds and the Clevelanders for the championship of Ohio. These youngsters are pitchers—an article that the locals are in sore need of, for with better twirling there is no doubt that the locals would have finished higher in the race. Three of the men who are to make their appearance on experiments on the local lot are Benton, of Chattanooga, who was with the Reds for a short time last season; Compton, of Dayton, the best pitcher in the Central League, and Boyd, of Ottumwa, who has been expected for some weeks. The Reds' management also has lifted five pitchers from the lower ends of leagues, some of whom are expected to report before the season closes.

The matter of a new manager for the Reds for next year still is agitating the fans and the press. There seems to be a decided feeling that Joe Tinker, shortstop of the Cubs, will be the new field leader of the local not intimidated that this will be the team, although the management has case. On the other hand, President Murphy, of the Chicago club, declares that if Cincinnati expects to get Tinker the club must give the Cubs an equally good shortstop. Just at present that is impossible, although Tom Downey is playing a remarkable game at short and getting better all the time. Perhaps by next season he will be good enough to take Tinker's place, and then we'll have the pleasure of experimenting with another manager.

Jack Johnson must be running short of funds these days, for he has accepted an engagement to fight Bombadier Wells, the English heavy weight, for a paltry $30,000, win, lose or draw. Wells is to receive $10,000 for putting himself up as a sort of humping post for Johnson. There is no reason to believe that there will be a white champion after this little fistie dispute is settled, and the "win, lose or draw" end of the $30,000 offered Johnson need not have been so definitely qualified.

Latonis promises better racing this fall than ever before was staged on the over-the-river track. A number of big Eastern owners have entered their horses for the first time in many years, among them being August Belmont, who has nominated a number of his stars for the big autumn events. This would indicate that the racing game isn't as dead as some people would believe, and that the coming fall meeting will draw better than any previous meeting. One of the exceptional features will be a two-mile endurance race, for which practically all the horses that will take part in the four-mile race at Louisville have been nominated.

Once more has the American wrestler demonstrated his superiority over the imported article. For weeks it was bruited about that George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, would this time put it all over Frank Gotch, the American boss. But when they went to the mat on the greensward of Comiskey's ball park on Monday, it was the American who again came off victorious. Gotch won the first fall in about fourteen minutes and the second in something like five minutes. Which proves that we still produce the best all-round fighting machines.

pace in 2:10½ started in the 3-year-old pace on Thursday. Mr. Vallery has his string of horses in good shape and expects to make several wins.

BASE BALL

Tomorrow at Millwood Park.
Dayton Vs. Washington

Tomorrow afternoon the local ball tossers will cross bats with the Peerless team of Dayton, which comes here highly touted as a strong bunch.

A good contest is expected if the weather permits of play, as both bunches are going now at top speed.

Muddy Track Races Are Off

Major Mallow was booked to start yesterday in the free-for-all pace at Rutland, Vt., yesterday, but owing to muddy track all races were called off.

The Major is in full fettle and is "coming through" in great shape on the half mile track Grand Circuit.

was searched by four persons to prove that he was taking money into the room. When he came from it he was again searched. He told the deputies to serve the warrant and they would find the money in an envelope in a pigeonhole in the mayor's desk. The deputies then went into the room and arrested the mayor, who was released after he had given $5,000 bond signed by his brother, A. F. Knotts, former mayor of Hammond.

Other Officials Arrested.

Following the arrest of the mayor, Sheriff Thomas Grant arrested the following on the charge of soliciting and accepting bribes: City Engineer C. A. Williston, Alderman Antony Baukus, Dominick Szymanski, John Simlasko, Emerson L. Bowser and Bolice, the son of Alderman Szymanski. Together with Alderman Gibson they were taken to Crown Point by the sheriff and his deputies.

T. B. Dean, the recipient of the franchise, came to Gary six months ago. He says that he lives near Richmond, Madison county, Ky. He appeared to have plenty of money. Dean appears to have had wonderful success in getting his franchise. His story is as follows:

"I came here to get a franchise for long it became apparent that I would be a central heating station. Before long it became apparent that I would have to pay. I then consulted my attorney Judge Walters of the Chicago law firm of Bouge & Walters. Then we laid our plans for action. Before Mayor Knotts went west six trap the Ohio legislative bribers, were installed in my room in the Gary hotel and in an adjoining room, and what is more they were installed in the mayor's office in the City hall. The dictographs were so arranged that they either recorded what was spoken or a stenographer hidden could take down the conversations. Before Mayor Knotts went west six weeks ago he intimated that $5,000 would have to be given him. John J. Nyhoff, until recently commissioner of public works, came to my room in the Gary hotel and demanded $10,000 for his vote. I have three of his conversations recorded and preserved in Chicago safety deposit vaults.

"City Engineer Williston and Alderman Bowser were given money by me."

Whether Dean is a clever detective engaged by the steel trust or some one else is a matter of conjecture.

THE CANDIDATES ALL BUSY

"SAWING WOOD AND SAYING NOTHING"

ON THE GREAT BONUS OFFER

Subscribers Should Now Help
Their Friends

BY RENEWING SUBSCRIPTIONS

Before the Liberal Vote Offer
Expires

"Sawing wood and saying nothing" very correctly expresses the method of the candidates at present. All are busy gathering up subscriptions and working hard for the bonus ballots that are offered this week. Many persons are willing to help the young women in the contest and are only waiting to be asked. The first candidate to ask therefore, will be the one to receive the subscription so it is very important that those who wish to enlarge their vote, get out among the people and make their cause known. It does not require any sacrifice in this contest, but if you expect to win you should stick to the campaign and put in your best efforts to come out a victor. The prizes are worth the little effort required to win them. Just let your friends know that you are in the contest and that you are out to win until the evening of Saturday, Sep-and you will be surprised how well you will be able to do.

Remember that payments on arrearages count just the same as if the payment was made in advance.

The special offer closes next Thursday and all should strive to get several of those bonus ballots that mean so much when the contest closes September 30th.

Extra Votes for Old Subscriptions

From Thursday, September 7th to Thursday, Sept. 14th at 5:30 p. m., extra votes for Old Subscriptions will be given as follows:

For $15.00 in Old Subscriptions, 10,000 extra votes will be given.

For $30.00 in Old Subscriptions, 25,000 extra votes will be given.

For $45.00 in Old Subscriptions, 45,000 extra votes will be given.

For $60.00 in Old Subscriptions, 70,000 extra votes will be given.

These extra votes will be allowed besides the regular number given for each subscription and should not be confused with the Double Vote Offer for subscription for $2.90 or more which closes Sept. 16th.

Attention, Contestants

Your attention is hereby called to the Great Double Vote offer which began Saturday Sept. 2, and lasts until the evening of Saturday, September 16.

The big double vote offer above mentioned has been inaugurated for the purpose of allowing hustling candidates "to do big things." It is possible under this offer for contestants to show to advantage just what they are capable of doing in an effort to capture the elegant prizes.

Contestants will bear in mind that this double vote offer does not effect the other offers now in force, or yet to be made, but is in addition thereto.

Below we publish for your guidance the complete double vote offer which will be in force and effect during this period. Examine it carefully in order that you may fully acquaint yourselves with its importance.

Please note that there is no increase in the number of votes given on $1.00 subscriptions to either the Register or Herald. To secure the benefit of the Great Double Vote Offer, subscriptions to the Register, new or old, must cover two years, and to the Herald, must cover at least six months. The longer the time on either paper, the larger the vote.

First Grand Prize 2nd Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWees photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.

To the energetic woman who wins it, this beautiful gem will be as a legacy in the bank. Its value is eternal and can never grow less. The person who wins this prize is not required to take the ring which we have selected, but CAN HAVE THE CHOICE OF ALL $125 DIAMONDS in the store of C. A. Gossard & Co.

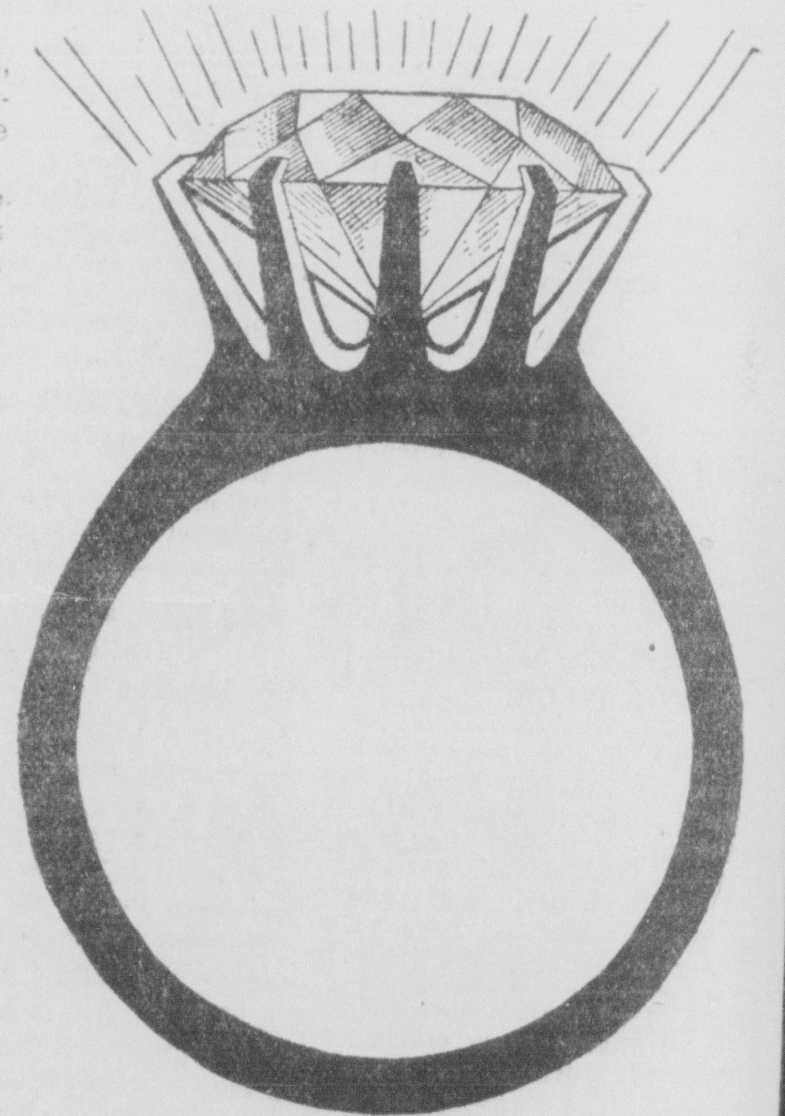

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

$75.00 Diamond Ring

This stone, purchased of W. H. Hettesheimer, Jeweler, is not quite as large as the diamond offered as the District First Prize, but it is a good sized gem, perfect in color and absolutely flawless. It has a Tiffany setting, and will make a splendid prize for some worthy young lady.

W. H. Hettesheimer guarantees this ring to be exactly as it is here advertised, and the person who wins it can have their CHOICE OF $75 DIAMONDS IN HETTESHEIMER'S store.
